CONDITIONS OF USE FOR IMAGES

1. Images provided for personal or research use cannot be reproduced by the patron photographically or digitally without written permission of the Virginia Historical Society.
2. A completed Application for Permission to Reproduce an Image must accompany all requests for permission. Permission forms issued by other entities will not be used.
3. An image can be used only once for the purpose(s) listed in the Application for Permission to Reproduce an Image. All permissions are issued for the life of a project or program. A second use of the image in any one project or program constitutes a separate use, not a re-use. Additionally, each media in which the image appears whether book, periodical, dust jacket or cover, broadcast video, VHS home video, streaming video, DVD, CD, E-book, or website constitutes a separate use. Any subsequent editions and/or different languages, etc., constitutes re use and must be applied for in writing.
4. The following is the basic credit line for all images unless otherwise specified: Virginia Historical Society, Richmond, Virginia
When provided, the photographer's name must be used in the credit line. We ask that you follow these guidelines:
 - Printed materials: the credit line should be easily accessible.
 - Film, broadcast, or video productions: credit within the "Sources for Illustrations" or "Credits" section of the production.
 - Exhibitions: credit should appear in the exhibition area, preferably directly below or adjacent to the original copy.
 - Website: the credit must be placed adjacent to the image along with a link to the Virginia Historical Society's website, <http://www.vahistorical.org>
5. The Society must be given one complimentary copy of any published work, including book, periodical, video, DVD or CD in which the image appears. The Society must be provided with the website address for images posted on the internet.
6. The accompanying caption or label should indicate any and all changes or alterations that have been made to the original copy, including cropping, tinting, or detailing.
7. Only photographic prints or 300 dpi (or higher) scans will be licensed for publication use. The Society provides 72 dpi scans for personal or website use only.
8. Images posted on the internet will be no larger than 72 dpi and 600 x 400 pixels. The Society reserves the right to request the removal of its images from any website.
9. The licensee or publisher cannot give permission to others for reproduction of the image or any facsimile of it.
10. In authorizing the reproduction of works in its collections, the Virginia Historical Society does not surrender its own right to publish or grant permission to others to do so.
11. The Society does not prohibit publication of images from its printed materials collection (books, magazines, etc.) but it is the responsibility of the patron requesting such images to make sure that they are free of copyright.
12. The Virginia Historical Society reserves the right to limit the number of photographic copies, photocopies or scans, to restrict the use or reproduction of rare or valuable materials, and to charge different fees than the ones published herein.
13. Any exceptions or modifications to the above conditions will appear on, and be part of, this application and must be agreed to by both parties.

The Virginia Historical Society in no way waives its right to future use of this/these item(s) or the right to grant others permission to use it/them.

I agree to furnish one complimentary copy of the published work (either book, magazine, VHS/DVD, or CD) to the Virginia Historical Society. I assume full responsibility in regard to copyright and other restrictions involved in the publication of this/these material(s) and agree to abide by the Virginia Historical Society's Conditions of Use.
